

The Port-a-Potty

A port-a-potty is not so grand,
Until you need it and there's none at hand.
And then it's cherished like the Taj Mahal,
Such a welcome site for one and all.

Not much tech has changed here from caveman times.
You still sit over a hole that's filled with slime.
Yet they are essential at all outdoor concerts and sporting events.
Thank goodness the new ones at least have some vents.

Construction workers see them most every day.
Since normal bathrooms are usually too far away.
Very few come with running water or a way to wash your hands.
So, make sure you bring hand sanitizer when you make your plans.

A hole that goes portable anywhere that it's needed,
Is a place that fortunately nowadays lets you be seated...
And a port-a-potty does this with its own classic style,
In case your memories and your visit last for a awhile.
